The Rest of the News

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Thursday, Jan. 21, the 21st day of 1965 with 344 to follow. The moon is approaching its last phase.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus and Mars.
The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

Confederate General "Stonewall" Jackson was born on this day in 1824.

On this day in history:
In 1861, Jefferson Davis resigned from the U.S. Senate, 12 days after Mississippi seceded from the Union.

In 1874, Morrison White of Ohio became chief justice of the Supreme Court, succeeding Salmon Chase.

In 1918, the Soviet council ruled all debts incurred by the former Russian Zarist government null and void.

In 1954, the first atomic powered submarine, Nautilus, was launched at Groton, Conn.

A thought for the day: American poet Walt Whitman said: "Once fully enslaved, no nation, state, city of this earth, ever afterward resumes its liberty."

Backstairs At The Whitehouse

By ALVIN SPIVAK
JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — Backstairs at the Texas White House.

There has been an increasing tendency in recent years toward anonymity in matters affecting the President.

Sometimes it is the President himself who remains anonymous, sometimes it is his aides. Often, it is hard to tell where an item comes from when it is attributed in news stories to "White House sources."

Newsman consider themselves bound, when the Chief Executive or one of his assistants requests it, to protect confidence. This is done through various devices: If the news source says his material is "for background use," it may be attributed to White House background. If it is for "deep background" no attribution can be used, and if it is "off the record" the item cannot be used.

One newspaper, for example, recently published a photograph of President Johnson under the caption, "White House source." The story, underneath, went into much detail of the views of "a high White House official." Guess who.

Another paper, in Texas, over the Christmas holiday displayed a photograph of Johnson talking to reporters at his ranch. On the same page were two stories which went into depth about the President's current views—as learned on high authority.

Johnson is known to have been angered by another situation, after he talked to a number of chiefs of Washington news bureaus on a "background" basis. News agencies which were not invited and thus not bound by any restrictions, identified Johnson as the source of the stories.

Kennedy Source
The late President John F. Kennedy did his backgrounding in a big way—through year-round resumes with reporters at Palm Beach, Fla. It violates no confidence now to cite Kennedy as the source of these December, 1961 and 1962, stories since they were widely published reports at the time as to the identity of "the highest authority" involved.

Frequently, there is good cause for a President or someone on his staff to want to avoid quotation. For example, he may be talking about a sensitive matter that the public should know about but that he does not want his name attached to for foreign policy purposes.

But the trend cover recent years has been to dubble beyond that type of material and to see how unquoted statements on all manner of issues—including a lot of minor ones—are received before going on the record with them. These are sometimes called trial balloons.

A SAD TIME—Lady Clementine Churchill looks calm and a bit resigned as she is driven in a rain-spattered car from her home in London while Sir Winston was growing weaker from effects of a cerebral thrombosis.

Business Highlights

By United Press International
WASHINGTON — The nation's industrial activity advanced to a new record in December holding nonfarm employment to increase twice as much as had been anticipated, government figures showed.

The Federal Reserve Board's index of factory, mine and utility output rose to 137.0 per cent of the 1957-59 average from November's revised 134.8 per cent, the previous record.

PITTSBURGH — Steel shipments last week were at an all-time high reflecting high present consumption and inventory building. Steel industry analysts forecast steel inventories will rise to four or five million tons by the end of April.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Quoted for Texas crude oil production in February were fixed at 28.4 per cent of maximum permissible levels, up from 29.9 per cent this month. This was the highest quota in about two years despite calls for lower quotas from a majority of crude buyers.

Sargent also held the single game high with a score of 52 points, against Middle Tennessee.

Eastern And Western Win The Honors

NASHVILLE, 1965 — Eastern and Western Kentucky claimed the No. 1 offensive and defensive honors respectively this week in the Ohio Valley Conference basketball circuit.

The statistics, released by OVC Commissioner Art Goepe here, showed Eastern with 96.2 points per game while Western had held opponents to an average of 73.3 points per game.

The Kentucky teams were tied for the league lead with four wins and a single loss each.

Morehead's Harold Sargent continued to lead in individual scoring with an average of 24.3 points in 11 games. Western's Clem Haskins was second with a 23.4 average for 14 games.

Tom Woods of Blue Tennessee State led the conference in rebounds with a 20.5 average, followed by Eastern's Bob Tolun with a 15.9 average.

Sargent also held the single game high with a score of 52 points, against Middle Tennessee.

Lakers Play Host To Cuba Cubs Friday

By LARRY MCKENZIE
Sports Reporter for the Calloway County Lakers

The Calloway County Lakers will play host to the Cuba Cubs Friday night, January 22, at Jeffrey Gymnasium. The B Team game will start at 7:00 with the Varsity game following.

The Club's top player is Andy Colburn, 5'11" guard, who is averaging close to 30 points a game.

The Lakers will be ready to meet the Cubs with full force since Coach Crittenden was a '32 graduate of Cuba High School.

Calloway will have its annual Queen crowning Friday night at approximately 8:00, right after the B Team game. This year's Queen will be Miss Margaret Brandon who will be crowned by last year's Queen, Miss Donna Bell.

All are invited to come out and see this special occasion and also an exciting game. The Lakers will be trying for their ninth win of the season.

Murray State Trying To Stay In Race

By United Press International
Trying to get back in the Ohio Valley Conference race, defending champion Murray shoots for its second league victory at home tonight against Austin Peay.

The Thoroughbreds finally got started in the conference derby Monday when they knocked off league-leading Eastern Kentucky 86-84. That was Murray's first OVC win after three defeats.

Austin Peay is at the bottom of the conference standings with a 1-4 record. The Tennessee team has won only 2 of 11 games this season, while Murray has a respectable 9-4 overall record.

Other games on tonight's sparse schedule have Bellarmine 7-4, playing host to Hanover, Ind., and Campbellsville, 3-7, going to Rio Grande, Ohio.

In Wednesday night's limited floor action Kentucky State overpowered the touring University of Americas 123-104 and Paducah Junior College forfeited a game to Vincennes Ind. by leaving the floor before the game ended.

Calloway High Student Council Meets Last Week

The Student Council of Calloway County High School held its regular monthly meeting January 13, 1965.

There were many items of business. Hugh Outland told the group about the Kentucky Association of Student Councils. The group decided to join it. The group also discussed a service project in which the students could help the other students and the school. The group discussed the over-crowded bus problem and appointed a committee to keep a record of how many rode the bus each day for one week. Those on the committee are Gwen Fulkerson, Connie Hopkins, and Jan Geurin. Each Student Council member is to write up a group of rules from which a code of ethics can be compiled.

Farm Bureau In Action by Teris Bennett Kentucky Farm Bureau Fed.

A Fight To The Finish To those who have thrown in the towel in the battle to maintain representative government in state legislatures the recent speech of U.S. Senator on this vital Constitutional issue should be required reading.

Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont, ranking Republican member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, addressing a national farm convention in Philadelphia, put the issue in proper perspective in blunt and challenging terms.

Referring to last summer's decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court calling for state legislatures to apportion both houses on the basis of population, he said:

"Make no mistake about it—this is a battle for the political control of the nation and with that control goes the power to tax, the power to spend, and the power to enact programs which will affect the lives and welfare of every living person for generations to come."

One of the more devastating attacks that could be taken by an urban dominated state legislature would be in the field of taxation, Senator Aiken warned.

"Certainly," he said, "the amount of taxes paid by farmers would be increased substantially, even though they would be distributed in such a manner that the major portion would go to the urban area."

How does Senator Aiken propose that the people fight against less of representative government? He calls for submission of a Constitutional amendment "to see that all the people of the United States get a chance to pass on it."

Common justice demands," he said, "that a Constitutional amendment be submitted to Congress and that Congress should "settle once and for all the powers and limitations of the U.S. Supreme Court."

What's more, Senator Aiken challenges the faint hearted by calling "for a fight to the finish."

"If we could spend five months in breaking a filibuster against legislation that affected the rights of only part of the people, we should spend all the next session, if need be, in breaking any filibuster aimed at restricting the rights of all the people."

These are plain words and they come from a man who is a veteran of many long and bitter legislative

Buford Hurt Speaks At Woodmen Grove Meeting Recently

Woodmen Grove 126 Murray had the regular monthly dinner meeting at the Murray Woman's Club House Thursday evening.

Buford Hurt, state manager of the Woodmen Life Insurance Company, and Mrs. Hurt were special guests.

A Question and Answer Period gave Grove members an opportunity to ask Mr. Hurt about the changes brought about by the recent merger of the Woodmen of the World and the Woodmen Circle and to inquire about the effects on future activities of Grove members and their membership status.

Mr. Hurt explained that the merger would not have any effect on Woodmen Circle Groves. All Groves of charter strength will be issued charters as Woodmen Groves. They will remain separate and distinct units and will have equal privileges with Camps and Courts in electing Head Camp delegates.

Woodmen Circle members have been granted the rights and privileges of full Woodmen of the World membership.

Robbie Paschall, Grove president, presided at the meeting. Mr. Hurt was presented by Heloise Roberts, Grove attendant.

Laurene Styles received the birthday award for January.

Other Grove members attending were: B. Wall Meigs, Lorena Jobe, Martha Carter, Muri Robertson, Emma Hamlett, Katie Overcast, Mary Louise Baker, Gladys Hale, Carmen Horton, Lillian Hoffman, Ruth Lassiter, Nellie McCoy, Odette Vance, Bessie Parker, Jessie Cole, Gladys Spinn, Clara Butler, worth, Louella Siedd, Jo Ann Roberts, and Oella Crawford.

Mrs. Crawford had as her guest, Bell Orr. Mrs. Roberts had her little granddaughter.

The January meeting of the Jesse Houston Service Club will meet January 28 with Mrs. Crawford at her home on North Eighth Street.

Dear Abby . . . In Proportion!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me why there are more double beds sold in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, than in any other city its size?

DEAR BRUCE: No, but it might account for the size of Milwaukee.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing about my sister, who is an attractive, intelligent, middle-aged widow. About five years ago her husband committed suicide. It was a dreadful experience for her, but after five years we feel she should try to make a new life for herself. Several desirable men have shown an interest in her, but she has run away from them all. When I pinned her down she became very upset and told me that she had no right to "lead a man on" because she would have to tell him if he didn't already know the circumstances of her husband's death. She feels it is a reflection on her that her husband took his own life. We've tried to tell her she is wrong, but we can't get through to her. Maybe you can.

N. Y.

DEAR N. Y.: Your sister is apparently suffering from guilt feelings (justified or otherwise) about what she failed to do that might have saved her husband. Psychiatrists say it's a typical reaction of one who has experienced a tragedy of this kind. Try to persuade your sister to seek professional help. Her future depends on it.

DEAR ABBY: About three mon-never had any trouble with my own family, or my husband's. Those pictures were mine and I can't imagine what came over that niece of mine, and why my sister didn't put her in her place. However, this is my only living sister, and a day doesn't pass that I don't feel sick over this terrible incident. I haven't called her and she hasn't called me. What do you suggest?

HEAVY-HEARTED

DEAR HEAVY-HEARTED: Call your sister. Granted, she could have saved the situation by putting her accusing daughter in her place, but don't hold this against your sister forever. The daughter sounds sick, and maybe your sister isn't too well either.

Prints Will Be The Thing For Spring

BY GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Jottings from the notebook after 10 days of seeing the spring fashion collections from leading New York designers: Spring will be the season of the print, no subdued figure prints, but giant patterns, many of them in the abstract rather than traditional floral or geometric.

Typical is one in a sport cocktail dress, unbelted and with spaghetti straps, stamped across otherwise bare shoulders, from the firm of Jerry Suberman.

The designer, Shannon Rodgers, used a black and white combination, a silk version of a pony's patch coloring.

Press Kept Busy

No reporter worth his salt ever discusses the hours and endurance spent on a story. But consider the some sort of a record set by the more than 200 reporters who, in the past 10 days, have been working the New York fashion shows.

The American Designers Group which ended the shows Tuesday, there were 87 events to attend.

These included breakfast starting at 8:00 a.m. at which time "trend lines" were reported; a subway express subway to Wall Street followed by "blue chip" fashions shown at the New York City Museum; a luncheon presentation of a new car design, with emphasis on the ladies' touch; a play dinner and entertainment; a "day of beauty," which added up to only minutes for a report on the newest in makeup and hair style in between regular ready-to-wear showings; a "bag and bagage" show by a leathergoods manufacturer and a Bloody Mary party on a Sunday.

In between, the schedule was marked "free writing period" — usually half an hour.

There was the collection of Christian Dior-New York, whose clothes, designed by Gaston Berthelot, were representative of spring fashion trends generally.

Sensing The News

A WAR WE CAN WIN
The new year finds the United States deeply engaged against communist-armed forces in the Asian country of South Viet Nam.

It also finds the same forces of defeatism and apportionment within our country saying that we can't win or that it is wrong to attempt to gain victory over the Communist Viet Cong.

Norman Thomas, the former Socialist Party candidate for President and the granddaddy of defeatists, recently expressed the negative point of view in a letter to the editor of The Chicago Daily News. Mr. Thomas said:

"In recent months I have repeatedly expressed my deep conviction that our American part in the Vietnamese war was not only wrong in itself but also that it played into the hands of communist propagandists around the world and threatened to lead to the ultimate disaster of World War III." He urged the negotiation of an immediate ceasefire agreement and "ne-utralization" of South Viet Nam. This is the kind of language that Moscow and Peking like to hear. It is only too familiar to Americans. They heard it used in connection with China in the 1940s, with Korea in the early 1950s, and Cuba in the late 1950s. Unfortunately, there is a powerful appeasement lobby that thinks and speaks as does Mr. Thomas, the vintage Socialist.

Their attitude never changes. Where the U. S. is in conflict with communism, they urge withdrawal and retreat. Where brave men stand up for freedom, they insist that resistance against the Reds offends "world opinion." Negotiation and neutralization are the twin themes of these gravediggers of America.

It is to be hoped that, instead of listening to the appeasers, the President of the United States will

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL—I

His Boyhood and Youth

John Churchill, the Duke of Marlborough, England's greatest general, was the illustrious ancestor of Prime Minister Winston Churchill. Since Marlborough's day, the family has given England many soldiers and statesmen.

Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill was born Nov. 30, 1874, third son of Lord Randolph Churchill and Lady Churchill, the former Miss Jennie Jerome of New York. His grandfather was the seventh Duke of Marlborough.

His school days at Harrow were the despair of his parents. Winston was last in his class. After two unsuccessful tries he finally was admitted to Sandhurst and immediately showed a great enthusiasm for military life.

Entering the British army in 1895, Churchill first saw action with the Malakand field force in 1897 and the Tirah expeditionary force in 1898, both in India. He won two medals, which won high praise, on these campaigns.

NEXT—Churchill in India. Captured by Boers. Escaped. Politics and romance.

Proven cream makes wrinkles diminish or vanish in 2 weeks

With a substance new to cosmetics, named Genava, aging skin can start looking younger and younger—not older and older.

After a two-week trial on a selected group of women, a noted dermatologist reports on the ingredients in Genava:

"Disappearance of small wrinkles was accomplished in two-week period; even the very deepest wrinkles showed very great improvement."

Dr. W. P. also comments, "the small superficial wrinkles responded dramatically." And he adds that the skin was "more translucent and smoother in appearance."

These results are nothing short of amazing. And it took a new cosmetic compound to do it.

Genava was developed by the trustworthy Nina Laboratory. Designed to be used twice daily—under make-up and overnight—it is absorbed instantly by the skin.

Start using Genava today. In just two weeks your wrinkles will vanish or diminish greatly. Skin becomes more translucent, smoother. You will look gloriously younger! 1.65 oz. $3.50; 4 oz. $5.00, both plus tax.
